Axe architecture short introduction

Axe Interior Decoration & Architecture, the first psychology-based interior decoration company, was established in 2008 with the aim to present professional architecture and interior decoration services with ms asal haghshenas and mr ali haghshenas, in a response to ever-increasing needs of the country in this field. The Company operates in the field of interior decoration consultation, design and execution based on the principle of 'practical design, high quality& punctuality' in residential, administrative and commercial projects

However, Axe society by take portion of potency art, scientific and technical architecture team-postgraduate manufacturing and associate on world postgraduate and realization at perhaps completeness executive facilities variety region and high performance to commercial projection,cultural and craftily

Along with modern architecture and decoration sciences and taking into account the significance of psychological and personality aspects of individuals in designs, AXE Company has been taking new steps in interior decoration and architecture since 2008 by making use of Psychological Decoration Method. In other words, first a psychological analysis of the clientele is conducted, and then, in accordance with their personality type, temperament, and tendencies, the requested physical environment is designed and decorated. So, AXE Company, having an experienced psychology team as well as architecture and design team, is diligently trying to localize Psychological Decoration Method in the country. At the moment, this company is recognized as the only company operating in this field

We attribute author till by introduction and production array, social work and exclusive plans new closure into beauty and inaccurate relief in clouding habitance complex axe by widespread actuality and by internal responsible society and adventitious to architecture
